

Tori Brown

DIRECTOR OF MARKETING

Tori Brown is the Director of Marketing for Gillis Gilkerson, a regional leader in commercial construction and real estate development. Additionally, she is the Director of Marketing and Operations for NAI Coastal, the Delmarva Peninsula affiliate of NAI Global, where she also acts as a Licensed Commercial Real Estate Advisor.

Tori utilizes her background in strategic marketing and communications to help guide both Gillis Gilkerson and NAI Coastal towards growth. She is responsible for establishing, maintaining and building their individual brands in a way that increases recognition and emphasizes their respective roles within the community. Tori is also responsible for spearheading the creation and implementation of branding for select development projects. Throughout the course of her career, Brown has served on multiple committees pertaining to event planning, community involvement and company outreach. Her current roles encompass everything from transaction coordination and organizational growth to public relations and marketing outreach.

Tori holds a Bachelor's Degree in Strategic Communications with a concentration in Advertising and Business Administration from West Virginia University.
